FOR THE CHILDREN

COUNTY CAMPAIGN IN INTEREST OF BETTER CHILD LAWS

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Beginning Sunday and Continuing for Four Days, Meetings Will Be Held in Various Parts of the County.

An extensive county campaign in the interests of the Missouri Children's Code and general welfare will open Sunday conducted by representatives of the National Welfare League.

The churches are uniting in this campaign and all business men, civic organizations, teachers and everyone in the community is invited to these services. This will be a splendid opportunity for citizens to learn of the national welfare movement as it is applied to the government and especially as it effects the growing generation.

The Children's Code commission was appointed by Governor Gardner to revise and modernize bills providing for an effective child welfare program for the state. In addition to many important provisions concerning child welfare, it also introduces bills which provide for departments of public welfare in the units of government, city, county and state.

Frank G. Wilcox, field secretary of the National Welfare association, has been appointed head of the state publicity campaign. Mrs. C. C. Hellmers is chairman of the work in Nodaway county. The men sent here to conduct the program are men of wide experience and will interest and entertain those who hear them.

The dates and subjects of the lectures will be as follows:

At Pickering, Sunday, Oct. 13—At the Christian church, 11 a. m. Missouri's Men of Tomorrow.

At Maryville, Sunday, Oct. 13—At the First M. E. Church, 3 p. m. "The Cause and Cure of Crime." All remaining sessions at Christian church, 8 p. m. The World Welfare Movement.

Monday, Oct. 14, 3 p. m. Building Efficient Home Builders. 8 p. m. How Children are Crippled for Life.

Tuesday, Oct. 15, 3 p. m. Missouri's Neglect of Children. 8 p. m. Juvenile Delinquency.

SUPT. COOPER'S BROTHER ILL

Confined in Hospital in Mississippi With the Influenza.

Superintendent Bert Cooper has received word that his brother, Frank Cooper, now at the Mississippi State Agricultural College at Starksville, is confined in the hospital with influenza, but that his case is not serious. Young Cooper and Vern Heflin, word of whose death from the disease has just been received were bunk mates. Cooper was sent to Starksville for special training in veterinary surgery preparatory to overseas service.

TEACHERS ON A SCHOOL VISIT

Harmony Board Allows "Day Off" to Find Out What Others Are Doing.

The Harmony district school board granted the teachers in the four Harmony schools a "day off" last Thursday and it was spent in visiting other schools seeking information and ideas that might prove helpful in their own school work. In company with Superintendent Bert Cooper they visited the Lasher, Gill, Garrett and Belle Grove schools. In the party were teachers Helen Holden, Vida Heflin, Chloe Hoshor and Myrtle Hutchinson. A visitation day when teachers might visit other schools in the neighborhoods should prove of great benefit and other school boards might find it to their advantage to provide for it.

AN APPEAL TO DUTY

BUYING BONDS BIGGEST JOB THIS NATION EVER FACED

NODAWAY IS FAR BEHIND

Chairman Pierce Says "It Will Have to Come.—We'll Keep at It Until the Amount Is Subscribed."

Washington, Oct. 11.—Oversubscription of the 6-billion dollar Liberty Loan was declared last night by President Wilson to be a matter of world importance at this critical time.

Accordingly, instructions will go forth to Liberty Loan committees everywhere to do even more than in the last eleven days to get every man, woman and youth in America to hold up the hands of the government by buying bonds and more bonds than they have already engaged. Americans in the next nine days ending Saturday, October 19, must participate in the biggest outpourings of individual resources ever recorded in any nation.

Two billions already have been raised—one-third of the minimum now sought. To barely touch the 6-billion mark new subscriptions at the average rate of 500 million dollars a day are needed. An excess over that will be required to fulfill President Wilson's appeal for oversubscription.

Polk township's quota in the Fourth Liberty Loan is $296,600 and but a little over one half the amount has been subscribed.

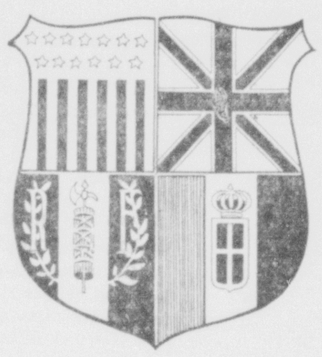
"We've got to make it," said Chairman W. C. Pierce this morning, "if it takes a second and third canvass of the township to do it." The same is true of Nodaway county. The loan is just a little more than half over every man and woman who is able to and the workers will not quit until subscribe has been seen. It may take pressure from the "Equalization Board," to make some of the wealthy residents disgorge, but as this it not a time for pussy-footing the rich slacker may expect to find his name in the public print.

Chairman Pierce had no report to make this morning but said that no additional townships had reported. "It is going to take hard work to get it over," said he, "as but few townships have secured their quota. We will make a second and third canvass if the present one is not successful for this county must not be found in the slacker column."

Gaynor reported today that their quota of $8,745 had been reached with some to spare.

Registered bonds are preferable to coupon bonds and the government would rather have subscribers indicate the former in making applications for the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Preference as to registered or coupon bonds should be indicated at time of subscription.



A Call From the President.

Washington, Oct. 11.—President Wilson yesterday issued this statement on the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

"Recent events have enchanced, not lessened, the importance of this loan, and I hope that my fellow countrymen will let me say this to them very frankly: The best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed. We are in the midst of the greatest exercise of the power of this country that has ever been witnessed or forecast, and a single day of relaxation in that effort would be of tragical danger alike to ourselves and to the rest of the world. Nothing has happened which makes it safe or possible to do anything but push our effort to the utmost. The time is critical and the response must be complete.

"WOODROW WILSON."

HUNS AGREE TO EVACUATION AFTER PEACE MEETING STARTS

KEEP ALSACE--LORRAINE

The Allies, Also, Must Not Insist That the Germans Quit Russia and Roumania.

London, Oct. 11.—Germany's reply to President Wilson's peace note will consent to the evacuation of France and Belgium after the peace conference is started in some neutral country, "providing" the Allies do not demand that German territory in Alsace-Lorraine be given up, nor insist on the German evacuation of Russia and Roumania, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Newspaper Express, who stated his information came from an "authoritative source."

Washington, Oct. 11.—That conditions within Germany are extremely chaotic are indicated in all dispatches arriving at the state department today. Neutral countries report the break between Pan-Germans and the Liberals is complete. BULLETIN.

London, Oct. 11.—With the Americans and British advancing on virtually the whole battle front the Germans are reported to be feverishly throwing new defense lines before the Americans. It is almost certain that the Germans must evacuate St. Gobain forest. The enemy is now evacuating Chemin-des-Dames. The situation at Laon is serious.

London, Oct. 11.—American and British troops that rolled forward fifteen miles through the hole in the Hindenburg line near Cambrai have passed the German base at Le Cateau and are driving in the general direction of Mornl forest, Ladrices, Lenouvion and Wasigny. The Allied victory is growing in magnitude hourly. The battle now raging in this region is over a front of thirty miles, only twenty-seven miles from the Belgian border and is going strong. The Germans are being so badly beaten that they have been able to put up but a feeble resistance.

The situation of the western battle front is expected to take a decisive turn soon. The British are now well in the rear of the German right flank resting on the Hindenburg line. The Germans must evacuate St. Gobain and likewise straighten out the Douai salient.

London, Oct. 11.—American and British troops fighting on the Cambrai front have completed the capture of Vaux-Andigny and St. Souplet, the war office announced. The British forced a crossing of the Selle river north of Le Cateau. Fighting continues in that region and the outskirts of St. Vaast and Saubert eight miles northwest of Cambrai have been reached. New advances by the British towards Douai are reported and the British lines are being extended east of Lens.

With the Americans West of Verdun, Oct. 11.—Americans that attacked in Argonne forest yesterday have broken down the last elements of German resistance in that region and are reported to have captuerd Marco and Chevieres, three miles north of Corny, which has been the scene of a tremen-

CAPITAL HARD HIT

WASHINGTON IS BATTLING WITH SPANISH INFLUENZA

CROWDS HARD PROBLEM

Many Who Are Seriously Ill Have Not Been Able to Get Civil or Medical Attention.—At High Tide.

(By W. C. Van Cleve).

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8, 1918.

The City of Washington is battling with one of the worst epidemics it has ever known. La Grippe, now called Spanish Influenza, in a most virulent form has taken hold of this whole eastern country and is rapidly spreading westward. It began apparently in Boston some weeks ago and has spread rapidly down the Atlantic coast.

The whole world seems to be enveloped in the scourge. The word comes today that there are hundreds of thousands of cases in the German army and demoralization and terror are spreading before it.

The disease appeared in Washington to a considerable extent only about ten days ago. It has spread until there are many thousands of cases and there have been already hundreds of deaths. Within the past week, the health board has taken hold of the proposition and is using every means known to stamp it out. The doctors here generally agree that it is nothing more nor less than the old fashioned grip in a bad form and that the change of the name does not change the disease.

It comes on sometimes suddenly, is attended with all kinds of back aches, headache, high fever, exhaustion, sneezing, sometimes vomiting and sick stomach, some times the heart is affected, and there is unusual weakness, loss of appetite and affection of the throat and bronchial tubes. Recuperation, after the fever is broken is very slow and many cases of pneumonia, bronchitis, etc., follow because of impatience and lack of care on the part of the patient.

Much medicine is not generally prescribed. A laxative is of course the first thing. Pluto water seems to be the favorite here. Along with this goes something to break the fever and break up the cold which varies according to the patient. After the fever is broken, there is not much to do but to rest, keep quiet, eat light food, such as fruit, broths, ice cream and milk toast. Plenty of fresh air is recommended both in the sick room and as a preventative without, of course, getting in a draft.

As a preventive, avoid crowds and impure air. Here in Washington, practically all gatherings have been forbidden. The schools are closed, the play grounds are closed, as are the theaters and churches. Church meetings may be held in the open air but not in buildings. During the last few days, public funerals have been discontinued, the courts have adjourned, the Senate and House are not attempting to do business this week and when they do meet, the galleries of both Senate and House have been ordered closed until further notice. Street cars are run with all windows open. As a matter of fact, there seems to be more in getting your physical condition in good shape so as to resist the germs than in all the preventives that may be named, aside from pure air which is always desirable.

The situation here has been more serious because of the crowded condition of the city. Every available place is jammed with war workers. The health board has asked the Civil Service Commission to quit asking for more employees until the situation has been relieved and has issued a warning to all against coming here at present unless their business is imperative.

Present conditions, together with a needless fright on the part of many people, have accentuated the gravity of the situation. The war has left a scarcity of doctors and those that are left find it impossible to meet all demands. I talked with one a few evenings ago and he said he made sixty calls the day before. This is an average of one call every fifteen minutes for fifteen hours without taking time for meals. The hospitals are full and hospital accommodations can not be secured for love nor money. Nurses are not to be had and every other variety of help is otherwise employed when they think there is any danger and, as a matter of fact, many seriously ill have not been able to get civil attention much less nursing. Cases have been reported where sick girls have actually been put out of their rooms by frightened landladies.

The epidemic has probably reached high tide and may be expected to recede from this time forward though more than a thousand new cases were reported yesterday. There are many thousand cases in the army camps and a high percentage of fatalities.

USED TO DEAD MEN

'BISCUITS' GREEN'S EXPERIENCES AT BATTLE OF SOISSONS

WAS KNOCKED OFF CABLE

Maryville Boy Now in Des Moines Hospital Barely Escaped with Life in Slide From Balloon.

Private Jack Green, one of the heroes of Cantigny, who is at the army reconstruction hospital at Des Moines, Ia., recuperating from gas and shell shock, has written to the Democrat-Forum news that will be of interest in Maryville his old home town. Young Green is a son of Dillard Green, former Maryville resident now living at Clifton Hill, Mo., and grew to manhood in this city. He was badly gassed and was in a hospital in France from June 8 until August 19, when he started to the U. S. in company with a couple of hundred soldiers, twenty-two of whom were brought to Des Moines hospital. He is steadily improving and hopes to be returned in time to be in at the finish.

He says in part: "I am sure glad to get back to the old U. S. A. once more. I was with the anti-air craft French third army corps (called the famous Blue Devils) for nine months in France Am sending you a clipping from the Des Moines paper which tells you better than I can how close the boys can be to one another and never know it until you get back into a hospital.

"The racket was simply hell! Old 'Biscuits' takes a look around and says, 'Are yu comin' Veek?' And I says, "You're damn right I'm comin,' yu can't lose——'."

When Ernest Veek, Minot, N. D., former brakeman on the Great Northern road running east out of his home town, came to he was lying half in and half out of a shell hole on that part of the western front about Soissons, where the Yanks carved their claim to immortal fame in the face of resistance offered by the Kaiser's famous Prussian guards.

That was July 22, and Veek has been a casualty ever since. He's under treatment in the United States general hospital at Fort Des Moines and probably will be for some time.

Prior to his enlistment in the North Dakota National Guard, Veek's duties never were more strenuous than being personal attendant to and upon a long string of freight cars on the Great Northern road. About the most exciting thing to occur in his then comparatively quiet existence was to flag a limited every month or so, or couple and uncouple freight cars.

Finds Brother Here.

Sergt. James Green, Maryville, Mo., otherwise and affectionately known by his comrades as "Biscuits," has a brother at the hospital. Although separated by less than two miles on the western front at one time the two men did not get to visit each other. The brother at the hospital, Jack Green, a member of the antiaircraft forces, accidentally met Veek after the two had been at the hospital for several weeks.

"Just as I said, 'you can't lose——'" Veek continued, "a high explosive lit near me. That was the last I saw of old 'Biscuits.'"

"I reckon he's all right," drawled the Missouri lad. "He sure always was lucky!"

Jack Green, although subjected many times to the fire from boche airplanes, claims the champion hard luck story for getting put out of the running. He was 200 feet up in an observation balloon when an enemy shell shot away one of the two cables holding the long basket which carries the observers. The balloon up-ended as a result, and the French observer who was with the American called to him to slide down the one remaining cable to the ground.

Knocked off Cable.

For 180 feet Green, with his arms and legs wrapped around the cable, shot downward. When within twenty feet of the ground, he tightened his hold for a safe landing and the Frenchman, but a little way above him, struck him, knocking him from the cable. The fall was comparatively short but Green received injuries to his back which proved serious.

Private Veek, his legs and feet severely injured by the high explosive, looked about him after regaining consciousness and saw three of his squad lying dead as a result of the explosion. Private Clarence McCormick, Boneybrook, N. D., he says, was one of the three.

"The fact that I might get hurt was the last thing in my mind," Veek said. "The boys don't think of that part of the game at all. They just want a chance to get at the Heinies."

Used to Dead Men.

Veek says he won't forget the first time he came upon a dead German unexpectedly. He had been sent back at night after some picks and shovels. Groping about in what had been a boche machine gun nest, he dimly saw what he thought was the handle of a pick. He stepped forward. His foot fell upon something soft, and at the same instant the object on which he stepped uttered a ghastly "gr-r-ra-wk."

"I knew what that was in a second," he said. "But, believe me, it made the shivers run up my spine for a minute.

"After awhile though," Veek says, "the soldiers get used to seeing the dead about. You don't think anything of rolling one over with the toe of your boot to be sure he ain't playing possum."

Announcement by

Anheuser-Busch

Missouri's Largest Industrial Institution

President Wilson, as a necessary conservation measure, has issued a Proclamation prohibiting the manufacture of cereal beverages on and after Dec. 1, 1918, which Proclamation also makes it necessary to discontinue the manufacture of Bevo—the Anheuser-Busch soft drink.

As a patriotic duty we accept without reservation the conditions of the President's Proclamation and on and after Dec. 1 our manufacturing plants will be closed—and they will remain closed until such time as we may be permitted to reopen them with the full sanction of the Government, or until we convert them for the manufacture of materials required by the Government in the prosecution of the war.

The Government's conservation program makes it necessary to suspend the beverage business of the Anheuser-Busch plants. We consider it a privilege to co-operate with the Government in making its war program effective, and to comply with every request and suggestion of the Government to the end that German armies may be more quickly defeated and German autocracy overthrown—to the end that an enduring peace may be established that will insure justice and protection to all nations and all peoples and make future wars impossible.

We stand squarely behind the Government in the prosecution of the war to a victorious conclusion. We regard the sacrifices we are making, amounting to many millions of dollars, as insignificant and inconsequential when we think of the benefits that will accrue to the world under the terms of the unselfish and altruistic war aims of the United States as defined by our President.

The Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association is preeminently the foremost and largest institution of its character in the world. It has plants covering more than 75 city blocks in St. Louis, and branch houses in many other cities and foreign countries. The business of Anheuser-Busch was world-wide. Its highly efficient executive and sales organization, as far as war conditions will permit, will be retained intact; and after the war for Democracy shall have been won, we shall be engaged again in useful industry.

The Anheuser-Busch plants are equivalent to a city in themselves. They represent an invested capital of $60,000,000. There are many modern manufacturing units in the group of plants—one, the new Bevo bottling and shipping plant, with equipment, costing approximately $10,000,000, and being the best industrial plant of any character in the world.

Anheuser-Busch pays annually more than $3,000,000 in Federal, State and Municipal taxes. Anheuser-Busch employs at good wages from 6,000 to 7,500 persons.

Anheuser-Busch industries support nearly a score of other useful industries of considerable magnitude.

During the period that Anheuser-Busch is out of active business, we shall take all necessary steps to protect the good name of this institution, which always has stood for 100 per cent integrity and 100 per cent efficiency. In the excitement of war false reports and statements are circulated with reckless disregard for truth. Anheuser-Busch has been the victim, unfortunately, of many such false reports.

In this connection we consider it opportune to so clearly define the attitude of this institution and its officers that there can be no further excuse for misrepresentation.

As an American institution, founded by Americans more than 60 years ago, and continuously owned and operated by Americans, Anheuser-Busch has unmistakably expressed its Americanism by subscribing to more than $3,000,000 of Liberty Bonds and the contribution of $500,000 to the American Red Cross and other war relief organizations of the United States and the allied cause.

Every employe of Anheuser-Busch—more than 6,000 in number—is a subscriber to Liberty Bonds and a contributor to the Red Cross and other war charities.

As a further contribution toward winning the war, August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, upon America's entry into the conflict, voluntarily canceled all commercial contracts of the Busch-Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Co., of which he is president, and since that time the entire facilities of this $3,500,000 plant have been exclusively devoted to the manufacture of engines for the submarines of the United States Navy. The engines manufactured by this plant are conceded to be the finest and most perfect made anywhere in the world.

Mr. Busch also has arranged to lease to the Government for the period of the war one-third of the 26 acres of floor space of the new $10,000,000 Bevo plant.

The manufacturing facilities of the $60,000,000 Anheuser-Busch plant, in part or entirety, have been tendered to the United States until the end of the war.

Over-enthusiastic agitators and envious competitors have attempted to prejudice the public against Anheuser-Busch on account of the purchase in October, 1915—when this country was neutral—of some German Government bonds by August A. Busch and for the account of his mother, Mrs. Adolphus Busch.

The truth is that these bonds were purchased 18 months before the United States declared war on Germany, and at a time when there was no thought that this country would become involved in the war.

The German bonds were sold by the principal banks, trust companies and bond houses of the United States and widely advertised in newspapers, and sold with the full knowledge of the Government. Many financial institutions, and thousands of loyal citizens, still own these bonds.

The bonds were sold by the same institutions that sold French, English, Italian and other war bonds. They were sold at 84 cents on the dollar, and recommended by financiers as good investments, paying a return of nearly 7 per cent.

Some professional agitators have undertaken to make it appear that Mr. Busch bought the German bonds to aid Germany in making war on the United States. When these bonds were sold it was publicly announced that the funds were to be used to establish commercial credits for Germany in this country—credits such as the allied countries enjoyed through the sale of their bonds.

The fact that this transaction was in October, 1915, and that the United States did not declare war on Germany until April, 1917, should set at rest the ridiculous charges circulated principally by paid agitators reflecting on the loyalty of Anheuser-Busch.

Anheuser-Busch was founded upon the solid rock of Americanism and grew to be a great institution under the protection of American democracy. The late Adolphus Busch, for many years its president, laid the foundations of the character of Anheuser-Busch so broad and deep that this institution always has represented in the industrial world vastly more than a beverage industry. The name of Anheuser-Busch has been associated with, and will continue to be associated with, great industries in various fields of manufacture, finance, railroading, mining, hotel building and operation, etc.

The intensely loyal organization, created by Adolphus Busch, and strengthened under succeeding management, always will be found fighting to uphold American ideals of government and American principles of fair play.

Anheuser-Busch is ready to sacrifice everything except loyalty to country, and its own honor, to serve the Government in bringing this war to a victorious conclusion.

We wish to express our gratitude to our dealers and the thousands of loyal friends whose co-operation and support have been an invaluable asset to this institution. We assure them that after the war Anheuser-Busch again will take its place among the important and indispensable industrial institutions of America.

Anheuser-Busch, St. Louis, U. S. A.

SAVE ALL ALONG THE LINE

That Is the Food Conservation Program for the Coming Year Dean Mumford Declares.

A steady pressure in all directions; saving food all along the line. This, in brief, is the food conservation program for the second year of this country's participation in the war. The most careful and thrifty conservation, the elimination of every type of waste are the principles which the Missouri Division of the Food Administration is asking to be observed.

"A program of this kind brings us back to many of the principles enunciated by the Food Administration last year and which were more or less lost sight of in the attempts to substitute in order to gain one position after another," said F. B. Mumford, federal food administrator for Missouri. "A year ago the American people were asked to reduce all unnecessary consumption and waste. The Food Administration preached the gospel of the clean plate. That is the gospel we want to get into every household this year; and if we can get this over it will have a better total effect than any plan of substitutions to fill a specific program.

"Mr. Hoover believes the American housewife has got to the point of education on food questions that will enable the Food Administration to tell her to use her own judgment and get along with as little as she has to. He believes she will show more pride and more national service in it if she is given a general job than if everything were laid out to her step by step.

"The Food Administration is not letting down on the food program. Some seem to have this impression. It is asking more than it ever has asked before. It is easy enough for people to keep a meatless day or a wheatless day; it is not easy for them to reduce their consumption of wheat and meat. And the Food Administration is asking for the difficult service and not the easy one.

"We cannot ship 17 million tons of food out of the country and not continue to conserve food. We cannot increase our last year's food exports to the Allies by 50 per cent and not continue to cut down our consumption.

"There are vitally essential foods and less essential now, just as there are essential industries and less essential staples—meat, wheat, fats and sugar are essential. Fresh vegetables, perishables of many kinds, bulky, unshippable foods, are—in a military sense—the less essential. It is the staples that must be saved; consumption of them must be cut down this year."

There are forty-eight different kinds of housefly known and classified.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel — are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

REV. SYKES TELLS OF HIS WIFE'S TROUBLES

Minister of the Gospel Thinks It His Duty to Make Statement About Wonderful Change.

It is seldom, indeed, that men of prominence, especially ministers of the Gospel, willingly express their indebtedness publicly to a proprietary medicine. However, when a medicine obtains that singular purity and efficiency that is shown by the uniform preparation, Tanlac, statements from our best citizens are to be considered thoroughly commensurate with the good that is actually being accomplished.

Rev. A. H. Sykes, pastor of the Watkins Park Presbyterian church, Nashville, Tenn., prominent not only as a minister of the Gospel, but popular as a man and citizen who has been true to his friends and every trust ever reposed in him, said recently:

"For the past ten months, Mrs. Sykes has been in very delicate health, suffering from bad stomach and kidney troubles, which gradually developed into a general nervous breakdown. At times her condition became alarming, and I frequently sought medical advice, but nothing we could do for her seemed to bring relief. In fact, she suffered so long and so much that I feel it my duty to let everyone know what this medicine has done for her. For several months her condition was such that she had to remain in bed and as a last resort, I decided to let her try Tanlac.

"I am a conservative man and have always been skeptical regarding the use of proprietary medicines, but this case has certainly proven an exception. I am now firmly convinced that Tanlac is a medicine of great power and extraordinary merit. I do not think I have ever seen anything to give such promising results. Mrs. Sykes had taken only two-thirds of a bottle of this medicine when we began to notice a marked improvement in her condition. In less than a week from the time she began taking it she was able to sit up and is today able to help with the household duties. Before she began taking Tanlac she had fearful pains in her side, and suffered constantly from sour stomach and indigestion and was intensely nervous. These distressing symptoms, I am thankful to say, have entirely disappeared, her appetite has returned and she seems to relish everything she eats. She sleeps better and is gaining strength and flesh rapidly. I think it only a question of a short time until her health is fully restored.

"Tanlac has certainly proven a remarkable remedy in her case and will do all you claim for it. I cheerfully recommend it to my friends."

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy. Adv.

Spanish Influenza--What It Is And How It Should Be Treated

Nothing New—Simply the Old Grip, or La Grippe That Was Epidemic in 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia by Way of France and This Time by Way of Spain.

Go to Bed and Stay Quiet—Take a Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food—Keep Up Your Strength—Nature Is the "Cure."

ALWAYS CALL A DOCTOR.

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC.

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—influenza itself has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally, patients in a run down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grippe, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the muceous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times a sore throat or tonsilitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but Nature will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing, and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to threw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE.

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly thru coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds — which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food. Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, cubebs, etc, so that when the salve is applied to the body heat these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

VaporRub is comparatively new in New York State and New England and a few Western states where it is just now being introduced, but in the other sections of the country it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles. Over six million jars were sold last year. It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and therefore can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all druggists. Adv.

TO SAVE CEREALS.

One cereal food at one meal is enough.

If the dessert requires flour or cereal perhaps vegetables can take the place of bread.

The amount of Victory bread served should be limited.

Don't serve toast as a garnish.

Left-over muffins can be toasted and used.

Cut the bread at the table as used—a thin slice at a time.

Always use stale bread, but count it as bread and reduce elsewhere.
